

From: Ruth Parker

Sent: Tuesday, September 22, 2020 12:04 PM

To: [list of other recipients redacted]; Ethnic Studies

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Fw: Israeli firefighter reflects on CA fires | Covid at Jewish senior homes | And more...

In the online J which I received today is an interview with President Mahoney in which she doubles down on her claim that the Leila Khaled event comes under the rubric of academic freedom, and the interviewer doesn't address the real issue here which is that giving material support to a US State Department designated terrorist organization is illegal under the Anti-terrorism Act. Material support includes any help which the terrorist would otherwise have to pay for. If the CSU attorneys are unfamiliar with this or have failed to inform her of this law ignorance of the law is no excuse. If President Mahoney goes ahead with this event tomorrow she opens herself and the CSU to criminal charges and penalties.

----- Forwarded Message -----

From: J. The Jewish News of Northern California

To: "[email redacted]"

Sent: Tuesday, September 22, 2020, 06:31:26 AM PDT

Subject: Israeli firefighter reflects on CA fires | Covid at Jewish senior homes | And more...

S.F. State president on why hijacker's invite is protected by academic freedom

BY GABRIEL GRESCHLER

In this Q&A, S.F. State University president Lynn Mahoney talks about the upcoming appearance of Palestinian hijacker Leila Khaled, academic freedom, and why she stays out of decisions made in classrooms.

READ MORE

Israeli firefighter in California: ‘The mind can’t understand the size of this fire’

BY MAYA MIRSKY

Idan Braun, one of 10 Israeli firefighters who came to help battle the LNU wildfire here in Northern California, said it was like nothing he's seen before.

READ MORE

New coronavirus cases reported at two S.F. Jewish senior homes

BY GABRIEL GRESCHLER

Two San Francisco Jewish senior facilities have reported a total of 14 new coronavirus cases among residents and employees — eight at Rhoda Goldman Plaza and six at the S.F. Campus for Jewish Living, including its first patient case.

READ MORE

Oakland 24-year-old seeking multiethnic bone marrow donor

BY MAYA MIRSKY

It's already hard enough for blood cancer patients to find a match through the international bone marrow registry, which pairs patients with potential donors who have the right type of tissue. But if you're Black and Jewish?

READ MORE

Anonymous honey cake exchange adds a sweet note to new year

BY ALIX WALL

Getting into the High Holiday spirit this year has been difficult for many. So Eitan Kensky of Mountain View created a secret Santa-style honey cake exchange, in which Jews in the Bay Area and beyond shipped each other homemade Rosh Hashanah honey cakes.

READ MORE

AstroloJew: In this new year, 'aleph' is for 'action'

BY LORELAI KUDE

What does 5781 have in store for you? In this installment of AstroloJew, your horoscope for the first month of the new Jewish year.

READ MORE

RBG was our superhero. Here's how we keep going.

BY CARLY PILDIS

"For so many of us millennial Jewish women, Ruth Bader Ginsburg became more than a Supreme Court Justice," writes Carly Pildis of the Jewish Democratic Council of America. "She represented the country we wanted to believe we were in."

READ MORE

Letters: Leila Khaled at S.F. State; antisemitism in ethnic studies; forgotten psalmists; etc.

BY J. READERS

In this week's letters, our readers dislike: Leila Khaled; giving Trump credit for UAE deal; a bust of an antisemite at the Asian Art Museum; and the lack of antisemitism education in the state ethnic studies curriculum.

READ MORE