

As a former teacher, this law is scary to be in the public school system. California has an obligation to stay out of politics and not offend their minority students or get involved in the politics of other countries.

Beverly and Martin Zeldes