Subject: Support Arab Studies

At a time of growing anti-Arab and anti-Muslim racism, recognizing Arab experience, history and culture as part of the broader ethnic studies curriculum is a great advancement towards social justice, a pillar of ethnic studies.

Please see the attached form in support of including Arab Studies in the California Ethnic Studies Curriculum.

Sincerely,

As referenced on page 1, Arabs and Pacific Islanders are particularly marginalized communities that are not well represented in current course offerings.</li><li>• I support the objectives listed on page 233 which clearly outline the benefits of teaching the diverse history of Arabs and Arab Americans as a way to challenge xenophobia and discrimination and to create a welcoming environment for marginalized students.</li><li>• Including a history of migration to the US (page 236) is necessary for any marginalized community, and in particular for Arab Americans at this time. Teaching this history will help create a bridge between migrant communities and celebrate a rich history of a growing population.</li></ul>
