While ethnic studies may be its own field of study with its own terminology etc. It completely lacks academic rigour, and is based upon ideology, not scientific methodology. Do not give this a leg to stand on. Do your homework and look at history for examples of what can result from adherence to political ideology.

Stick to subjects that are derived from fields of study that strive for objective truth as much as possible and those that will actually educate students and not indoctrinate them.

Thank you,
