

Louis Altman

The original inquiry follows:

I think there are benefits to having students study Ethnic Studies, I strongly object to giving anything but negative mention to BDS (Boycott, Divest, Sanction - an anti-Semitic movement, cloaked as a social/political movement that seeks to undermine Israel's right to exist). alternatively, the curriculum should mention what Palestinians and Iranian youth are taught in school, such as "Israel has no right to exist," or "all Israelis should all be murdered."