General	Edward T. Chang Professor of Ethnic Studies UC Riverside	Page 7 Line #244 – Korean immigrant labor and settlement not included at all. This is very troubling and must include Korean immigration as part of California history
General		Page 14, Line 501 – Korean Americans not included. In the aftermath of Los Angeles civil unrest of 1992, Korean American merchants suffered “triple oppression” (economic, psychological, and media distortion). Korean Americans have emerged as one of the most visible and important group in California in terms of race relations and multiracial coalition building
General		Page 21, Line 806-808 – Again Korean Americans are not represented. Please see above comments

General		Page 31, Line 1231-1234 – The issue of Sex slaves (Comfort Women) during World War II should be addressed to discuss universal values of human rights and women's rights.
General		Page 40, Line 1633-1634 – Korean immigrant labor should be included. Why only Filipino and Japanese? Please explain why, how, whom decided to include only Filipino and Japanese.
