General	James Stillman	After reviewing your documents, instead of the empowering effect that you are trying to produce, I believe that your resulting effect is going to be one of confusion and anger – at our country, at specific genders (which you seem to be trying to eradicate), at the world in general. How can this be deemed “education?” Empowering will occur as we REDUCE the amount of confusion, INCREASE the amount of knowledge that will truly help our students be successful in the marketplace. I don’t think that what you have created will achieve that – as
